WITH COLORS FLYING.

Blackburn and His Friends Go Down at Frankfort.

END OF THE SENATORIAL FIGHT.

After a Struggle That Has Lasted Through Two Legislative Sessions and Cost the State $100,000, Deboe Is Finally Elected United States Senator from Kentucky—Intense Excitement Marks the Closing Scenes in the Capitol at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., April 29.—The crowd that filled the house chamber, aisles, lobbies and galleries long before noon Wednesday, was the largest seen in ten years in this historic hall. Everyone believed that a senator was at last to be elected after a struggle that has lasted through two legislative sessions, through 112 ballots and at a cost to the state of more than $100,000. The cheering that never ceased till the assembly adjourned since die in wildest confusion, began when the sixty-eighth vote for senator was taken. Deboe had 71 when the roll call ceased. The Blackburn people called for the absentees and voted solidly for their man. Martin's voice was very low and his face very white when he said, "Blackburn." He believes yet that Blackburn could have made him the senator.

Stout Votes for Martin.

Norman and Bald, both voted for Deboe. Stout held out and voted for Martin. Ogilvie was away as was Deboe himself. The latter could not be called on for a speech in the confusion, and stayed downstairs, where he received his congratulations. Blackburn shook hands with his faithful friends and left for the hotel about as usual. He left for his home in Versailles in the afternoon. Senator Deboe will receive his certificate at once, go to his home in Crittenden county and to Washington not later than Saturday. Bradley sat in one corner of the assembly and broadly smiled his satisfaction and triumph while the cheering shook the old state house. After the official declaration of the election of Deboe there were such loud demonstrations that even the telegraph office in the lobby had to suspend business and nothing but the bare ballot could be sent out.

Intense Excitement.

The excitement was intense, as it ended a contest that has been waged here since last year. Senator Blackburn and his friends, after fighting hard for over a year in the regular and the extra sessions, went down with their colors flying. The silver Democrats concealed their disappointment and the gold Democrats joined in the jollification. There never was such a scene in the Kentucky state house. Senator Deboe will proceed to Washington at once with his credentials to assist in reorganizing the United States senate and in the passage of the tariff and other measures on which the lines are closely drawn.

FIVE VESSELS ASHORE.

Driven Aground in a Severe Storm on Lake Ontario.

Toronto, April 29.—During the storm Monday five vessels at the eastern end of Lake Ontario were aground or ashore, all heavily laden with grain. Tuesday morning another went ashore. The mammoth steel steamer Rosedale was driven ashore in the narrows of the St. Lawrence just below Clayton. Four barges loaded with 100,000 bushels of grain from Kingston for Montreal ran ashore at Johnston's light and one sank in 100 feet of water. The others are aground and half filled with water. The steel steamer Banockburn, loaded with 60,000 bushels of corn, ran on the rocks near Snake Island light. Lake captains have received official notice that the Lachine canal will be opened Saturday.

Danville, Ills., April 29.—The coroner's inquest over the body of the man who committed suicide in a sensational manner Tuesday night by first cutting his throat and jumping over the Wabash railroad bridge, down into the Vermilion river, a distance of about one hundred feet, developed the fact that he no belongs to a wealthy and well-known family of New York city. His name is Richard Hoe Lawrence and he is the grandson of Richard Hoe, the press manufacturer.

ATE A DEAD COMRADE.

Portion of a Shipwrecked Crew Forced to Cannibalism.

St. Johns, N. F., April 29.—The French fishing vessel, Valliant, Captain Pierre, bound from St. Malo for Miquelon, struck an iceberg on the Grand banks on the 16th inst. and almost immediately foundered. She had seventy-three fishermen on board and all took to the boats. Only one of those boats has thus far been heard from. It had on board seven men. Three perished from exposure. The bodies of the first two were thrown overboard, but the survivors in their desperation were given to cannibalism and ate the third. The survivors are so badly frost bitten that their arms must be amputated. It is certain only that one boat escaped the whirlpool caused by the sinking of the brigantine. The three other dories may have gone down or they may now be floating about, freighted with the dead.

With such haste did the sailors escape from the sinking brigantine that not only had they no clothing with them, but they were unable to secure water and food, and in the morning the seven men in one of the boats found themselves adrift with nothing aboard with which to sustain life. The three other boats are believed to have contained about twenty men, and such as were left on board the Valliant perished quickly. As events proved their's was the better fate. The weather was biting cold and icy spray fell over the men. On the second night two of the men died from exposure and their bodies were thrown overboard. Next morning a young man, Felix, died and he, too, would have been given to the fishes if his companions had not had strength enough to lift the body. On the fifth day, crazed beyond doubt, they adopted the frightful resort of cannibalism in their condition and ate their friend. Then they were all delirious after that.

It was on the twelfth day of their shipwreck that the lookout of the fishing schooner Victor Eugene, bound for Pierre, saw a far-off speck upon the ocean, which later proved to be the dory of the Valliant with the four miserable men still aboard—raving idiots. They were rescued and as soon as the Victor arrived in port they were removed to a hospital. The doctors say that their frozen arms and legs must be amputated. With one exception, the survivors have only mumbled like wild men since rescued. Greenville, an under officer, and a singularly hardy man, recovered sufficiently to give an outline of their shipwreck and suffering, but he relapsed immediately after telling his thrilling story.

WORKING WOMEN MEET.

National Convention of Club Delegates at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 29.—Several hundred women active in their respective localities assembled here Wednesday to take part in the national convention of working women's societies. The chief object of the convention is the betterment of the condition of the working women, and the delegates directly represent clubs of working women and girls. Perhaps the most prominent organization represented is the Chicago Association of Young Women's clubs, composed of ten clubs of self-supporting women, banded together for mutual help. It maintains a business woman's exchange and other enterprises of a business and money-earning nature. The convention, which opened Wednesday afternoon and continues until Friday night, will be addressed by Miss Grace Dodge, Mrs. Frederick Nathan and other women of prominence. Similar movements have been extremely successful on the other side of the water; the National Union of Working Women, which was organized about the middle of the seventies, having had at one time a membership of over twenty-five thousand.

The President at New York.

New York, April 29.—President McKinley decided that he would not return to Washington until Thursday. He spent Wednesday morning quietly at the Windsor hotel. Mayor Strong was among the callers, and to him the president expressed himself as extremely gratified at the way the ceremonies of Tuesday were performed and the vast throngs handled. Accompanied by Abner McKinley, his brother, and Private Secretary Porter, the president took a short stroll up Fifth avenue at noon. Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, with her daughter, Gladys, called on Mrs. McKinley during the day.

Would Violate a Treaty.

Washington, April 29.—Lorin A. Thurston, ex-minister from Hawaii, and at present special commissioner from that country, has submitted to the finance committee of the senate a statement of reasons why the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty ought not to be abrogated by the new tariff bill, and why it should not, on its merits, be abrogated at all. One of his reasons is that it would be "a deliberate violation of a solemn treaty."

POUR PARLERS ACTIVE

Between London, Paris, Rome and St. Petersburg.

POWERS WILLING TO MEDIATE.

Hoped That an Opportunity Will Arise Before Long to End the Trouble Between Greece and Turkey—Greeks Repulse a Turkish Attack Upon Velestino—Excitement in Athens on the Increase—Downfall of Dynasty Predicted.

Paris, April 29.—The following semi-official announcement is made: "Four parlers between Paris, London, Rome, and St. Petersburg, with the view of attempting mediation between Turkey and Greece, have been very active and are now assuming more precise form. It is hoped that the opportunity to mediate will arise before long. Germany and Austria are kept informed of the progress of the negotiations, and do not disapprove of them."

The Matin declares that the supercession of Prince Constantine, if made by a royal decree, is equivalent to his renunciation of his rights to the crown. Continuing, the Matin asserts that the replacing of Minister Delyannis by M. Ralli, the opposition leader, will not serve to arrest the course of popular indignation against the royal family, adding that the ministerial crisis therefore only precedes a dynastic crisis by a few days.

TURKS REPORT THIS.

They Say Greeks Were Beaten at Lofakia, Losing 400 Men.

Constantinople, April 29.—An official dispatch received here from Salonica says that in an engagement at Lofakia, the Greeks were compelled to retreat with a loss of 400 killed and many wounded. The report of the bombardment of Karaburun is denied in this dispatch. It is explained that the Greek fleet maneuvered in the vicinity of Karaburun, but did not fire upon that place.

King George is credited with desiring to abdicate in favor of his second son, Prince George.

OUTBREAK IS FEARED.

The Foreign in Athens Hoist Their National Flags.

Athens, April 29.—Public excitement is increasing every hour. The foreigners are hoisting their national flags over the buildings inhabited by them. A popular outbreak is feared. The report that the king was compelled to sign a decree recalling Prince Constantine from the front is unfounded. The crown prince will remain at the head of the army.

The Greek troops in Epirus have been losing ground and compelled to retire to Luros.

Deficient Transport Arrangements.

London, April 29.—A special dispatch from Patras, on the west coast of Greece, attributes the reverse of the Greeks in Epirus to deficient transport arrangements, and says the measures taken for the conveyance of ammunition and food were wholly inadequate. Continuing, the dispatch points out that a thousand Greeks who were defending Pentepedidia against 3,000 or 4,000 Turks only retreated when their ammunition was exhausted and while another division was advancing to the support of the Turks.

Christian Villages Fired.

Corfu, April 29.—The Greek warship Nauarchos Meaulis, with two torpedo boats, sailed for Preveza. The Eurotas remains. It is reported that several Christian villages in Epirus have been set on fire by the Turks. M. Theotoky, a deputy, and formerly a minister, under M. Tricofis, has been urgently summoned to Athens.

The event took place at Free Masons' hall, and the ceremonies occupied several hours. An immense crowd gathered outside the building, and the prince on arriving and departing was heartily cheered. #### Bank Examiner Takes Charge.

Hutchinson, Kan., April 29.—State Bank Examiner Breidenthal Wednesday took charge of the Bank of Hutchinson, a private concern. The principal creditor is the Metropolitan National of Kansas City, which is also a large stockholder. The bank was a reorganization of the Valley State bank which was closed a year ago, but has not been able to regain prestige. Its old indebtedness was too much to carry. The deposits are small. Cashier J. G. Streen of the Metropolitan is here arranging to reopen the bank or close out its business as may be determined by the creditors.

THINK SHELDON IS ALIVE.

Developments in the Banker's Case Tend to Disprove Suicide Theory.

Chicago, April 29.—Friends of the missing Loda (Ills.) banker, John S. Sheldon, as well as the police, in view of the new facts brought to light by a thorough investigation of the case Wednesday morning are inclined to believe that he is still alive. He is believed to have gone from Chicago to Kansas City, where he has a most intimate friend in the person of George H. White, a real estate dealer and an ex-president of the board of trade of that city. To his friend James Wilson, whom he met by appointment in Chicago on Thursday last, Sheldon said he intended going to Kansas City.

The news of Sheldon's disappearance almost caused the total bankruptcy of the town of Loda. Nine business firms went into liquidation almost simultaneously. Besides these firms, Sheldon's bank suspended. The missing man was trustee for the majority of the estates of his county and held in trust the school funds of Loda township.

The investment of money in lands in Green county, Ills., is said to have been the cause of his financial downfall. The firms which went down in the crash at Loda are: Stocum & Bradley company, dealers in hardware and lumber; W. L. Kinsman, general merchandise and grain; Nels Peterson, dealer in hardware, furniture, and farming implements; Gray & Swanson, general merchandise; Peterson Bros., farmers; Edward Stocum, capitalist; Mrs. Fannie Bradley, individual assignment; W. H. Bradley, individual assignment.

FATAL FIRE IN BROOKLYN.

Woman Throws Her Two Children from a Window, Killing Them.

New York, April 29.—Four persons lost their lives in a fire at 1728 Third avenue, Brooklyn, early Wednesday morning. The dead are: Mrs. Celia Newell and her two children, aged 3 and 5 years; Mrs. John Barnett, aged 38 years. Before she was suffocated Mrs. Newell threw her two children out of the window into the street. The injuries they received resulted in their death soon afterwards.

Flames began in the lower hall and spread with great rapidity through the building, completely cutting off the escape of the Newell family, which occupied the top floor. When Mrs. Newell found the stairway burning and the hall filled with smoke, she threw her children from a window to the street below, where four men held a blanket to catch them. The children bounded from the blanket and were killed by falling on the sidewalk. Mrs. Newell was afraid to attempt the leap, and was suffocated later in her apartment. Her husband escaped with slight burns. On the floor below lived Mr. and Mrs. Barnett. They reached the street in safety, but Mrs. Burnett ran back into the burning building to secure some jewelry she had left behind. She was subsequently found in an alcove room dead and slightly burned. The loss is estimated at $25,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.
